

PLASTIC SURGE

Willie Hantz's mug shot

'BROTHER' BUTTHEAD BUSTED FOR DUI

JUST six days after Big Brother 14 thug Willie Hantz was kicked off the hit CBS show for trying to head butt fellow contestant Joe Arvin, he landed behind bars!

Hantz, 34, was busted for operating a vehicle while intoxicated in Lafayette, La.

'Let's get stupid'

Hours before his 2:30 a.m., July 26 arrest, Hantz sent a message on the social networking site Facebook saying, "McKinley street pub cum get some laf. Let's get stupid."

Cops say he ACTED stupidly when they were called to deal with a fight in the bar-hopping area of the city.

As they approached his 2012 yellow Camaro, lawmen charge Hantz jumped out and ran, but was caught "after a short pursuit."

He was charged after refusing a sobriety test.

After posting $750 bail, Hantz immediately used Twitter to proclaim his innocence.

He posted a message saying, "I was just moving my car like the cops asked me to. Then they came up and arrested me."

- BOB BURNS

bobburns@globefl.com

LEGENDARY Las Vegas singer Wayne Newton is practically unrecognizable after shocking new plastic surgery, fans and experts say.

"It looks like he's going to burst!" says one stunned eyewitness.

The puffy-faced 70-year-old performer's new look raised eyebrows when he appeared in a Nevada court early this month for a hearing in his ongoing battle with a developer who is trying to turn his famed Las Vegas ranch into a Graceland-type tourist attraction.

Cartoon character

Wide-eyed, Newton sat grinning in court as his lawyer-wife, Kathleen McCrone Newton, 48, testified about their business deal with real estate magnate Steve Kennedy, who bought Casa de Shenandoah for $20 million in 2010. He now rents it to the star.

"Newton looked like a cartoon character," says a source.

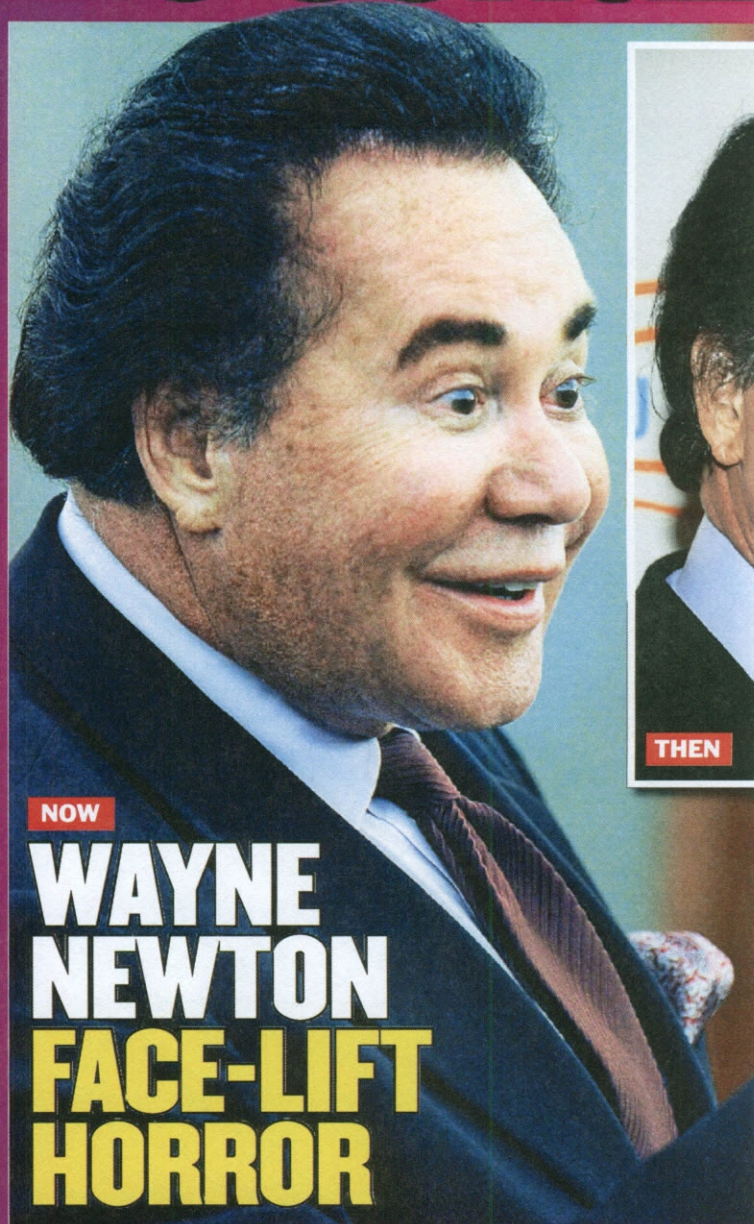

"His face was remarkably tight and stretched, and his brows were sitting so high, he looked constantly surprised!"

Dr. Brian Glatt, a Morristown, N.J.-based board-certified plastic surgeon, tells GLOBE the Danke Schoen star has overdone facial fillers.

"He's had Botox injected into his forehead and between his eyes for around $700," says Glatt, who is also an assistant clinical professor of plastic surgery at Mount Sinai School of Medicine.

"He definitely has had his eyelids re-done as the scars appear to be fresh and his upper eyelids look swollen. This costs between $2,500 and $5,000.

"It seems he's also had his mid-face and cheeks lifted and filled, most likely with fat-grafting costing $1,000 to $4,000. The look is way overdone and artificial. His cheeks are busting at the seams from overfill."

NOW

WAYNE NEWTON FACE-LIFT HORROR

Adds noted New York-based cosmetic surgeon, Dr. Matthew Schulman, "His wrinkle-free face shows classic signs of several procedures, including upper and lower eyelid surgeries, and full lifts to the face and neck which have left him jowl-free.

"He's also had help from a hair transplant judging from the appearance of his hair line."

And Dr. Jeffrey Spiegel, a