

PLASTIC SURGERY CONFESSIONS

ALL-TIME BOMBS!

Priscilla Caputo

Let this face be a word to the wise — don't mess with Mother Nature! The aspiring model hoped that collagen injections would boost her looks as well as her career. But when one procedure turned into many, her addiction to plastic surgery pushed her to the brink of suicide! "Let what happened to me be a wake-up call," the California girl, 30, warned. "I can't look at these pictures of myself without crying. But I'm willing for people to see them if it helps just one girl avoid the path that I took."

PUCKERED OUT!

Barry Manilow

He's famous for his hit song "Can't Smile Without You," but the music legend looks so frozen-faced that he can't seem to smile at all! The singer-songwriter has admitted to having Botox and face-lifts, leaving a look that's shockingly wrinkle-free for a 68-year-old.

Priscilla Presley

Even the widow of the King can fall victim to a plastic surgery scam! The former Dancing with the Stars contestant, 66, found herself the center of controversy when it was revealed her plastic surgeon, Dr. Daniel Serrano, was unlicensed. In 2003, the sham surgeon injected the actress with a low-grade silicone substance similar to that used by mechanics to grease car parts. While the doc was arrested, the damage to Priscilla had been done!

Pete Burns

The Dead or Alive pop star looks like a very bloated Cher impersonator! "Changing my face is like buying a new sofa," Pete, 51, has said. Perhaps it's time to redecorate!

Suzanne Somers

Is the former blonde bombshell's nearly unrecognizable face the result of high-tech plastic surgery gone wrong? Detroit-area plastic surgeon Dr. Anthony Youn thinks it looks like she underwent an operation known as a stem-cell face-lift — which is not even legal in the U.S.!

Jocelyn Wildenstein

The socialite, 70, was nicknamed Catwoman after she got $2 million worth of plastic surgery to look like a feline. Meowch!

Briella Calafiore

"The only procedure I've had done is a breast augmentation," the Jerseylicious gal tells Star. And she had a unique way of picking her surgeon. "Dr. Glatt has the same birthday as me, so I just knew!" Is she happy? "I would do it all over again tomorrow if I could."

Kelli McCarty

"I've had my lips done," the former soap actress, 41, tells Star. And she attributes the "really natural" results to a special procedure. "I had them injected with my own fat," the former Miss U.S.A., confesses. "I would totally do it all over again."

Allyson Donovan

"I got liposuction on the back of my arms... Having big arms has always been a huge insecurity for me," the BridalPlasty winner admits to Star. "I've always had arms like a man!"
