Have these stars had BOOB JOBS?

From flatter chests to killer cleavage, these Hollywood celebs have undergone some major breast changes

CIARA IS BURSTING OUT OF HER DRESS

"My Goodies" singer Ciara seems to have more to flaunt these days. "She may be had breast-implant surgery," Dr. Glatt tells in Touch. "Her breasts appear to be larger and rounder, and the space between her breasts is more narrow than it was." Dr. Glatt believes she's gone from a small B cup to a small C cup. "The possible augmentation looks proportionate on her thin body," he adds. Ciara hasn't confirmed or denied going under the knife, but she's made it clear that she doesn't care what people think of her appearance. "I try not to let other people affect the way that I look," says the 23-year-old star.

DREW'S CHEST HAS DISAPPEARED

After dealing with insecurity and back pain, Drew Barrymore had a breast reduction back in the 1990s. And while she loved the results and said she was going to do all she could to avoid undergoing more procedures, recent pictures of the 34-year-old actress looking fatter than ever suggest she may have had another reduction. "Even though it looks like she has gone from a D cup to an A cup, it does not appear that Drew has had a second reduction," says Dr. Glatt. "She is most likely wearing a bra that significantly holds in and compresses her breasts, giving her an even fatter appearance."

BROOKE SAYS SHE LOVES HER BIGGER BOOBS

Unlike some stars who deny or avoid boob job rumors, Brooke Hogan has nothing to hide. She came clean about her breast implants on The Howard Stern Show, saying, "My boobs are fake. I wanted them more rounded... I like them now. They definitely look pretty." Dr. Glatt estimates that the 21-year-old was likely a large C before, but is now easily a DD. "Her breast size is significantly larger and fuller," he says. Dr. Glatt adds that Brooke is the perfect example of someone whose chest looks done. "She has gotten implants that stick out and project in an unnatural way."

JEN'S NEW CHEST IS HARD TO MISS

While on the set of her new movie Bounty Hunter, Jennifer Aniston's chest appeared suspiciously more beautiful than usual. According to board-certified plastic surgeon Dr. Brian S. Glatt of New Jersey, she has most likely gotten implants. "Her breasts appear to be fuller, rounder, perkier and more projected," he tells in Touch. "There's no way to achieve this other than with breast augmentation surgery." Regardless, Dr. Glatt notes that Jen's possible augmentation from a B to a full-C looks very "natural." He also says implants can cause the nipples to become more sensitive and therefore become erect more often, like Jen's. But the actress claims that other than correcting a deviated septum, she's never had plastic surgery. "The rest of my body is all mine. And absolutely natural. And it's going to stay that way," Jen, 40, has said. Her rep also tells in Touch Jen does not have implants.

Can you believe Heidi wants even bigger implants?

Heidi Montag, who is featured on the cover of the September issue of Playboy, tells the magazine she plans on getting a breast "upgrade" in the future. "I'm definitely not done with my surgical quest," she says, explaining she wants "to go bigger" for her husband, Spencer Pratt. But Dr. Glatt tells in Touch if Heidi 22 enhances her bust even more, she'll run into issues. "Her skin and tissues will sag and stretch out so much that she will be sure to need a breast lift within 10 to 15 years to correct drooping," he says.

LEONA'S FULLER BUST INDICATES IMPLANTS

In 2007, British singer Leona Lewis spoke out against going under the knife. "I wouldn't have surgery," said the now-24-year-old star. "I'm happy in my own skin." But Dr. Glatt tells in Touch that it's "very likely" Leona had breast augmentation surgery. "Although her cleavage is fairly the same as it was in 2008, her overall size is now significantly larger," he explains. "She appears to have been a small C cup before, but now is a large D to DD cup." When asked directly about having plastic surgery, the X Factor winner responded with, "I have nothing to say."
