

BRIAN S. GLATT, MD, FACS

Board-certified plastic surgeon Dr. Brian Glatt, named again a New Jersey Monthly Top Doctor, brings the latest cosmetic and reconstructive techniques and extensive experience in plastic surgery to his patients. His specialties include cosmetic surgery of the breast, body and face; injectable fillers; Botox® and Dysport®; breast reconstruction; and pediatric plastic surgery. Dr. Glatt has appeared on CNN, E! News, ABC News, CBS News and Entertainment Tonight. He consistently achieves outstanding, yet natural, results for his patients and has an innate ability to visualize how subtle changes can dramatically improve appearance.

The heart of Dr. Glatt's practice is his individualized approach to patient care. He and his staff make it a priority to provide a warm environment where comfort and privacy are paramount. Patients often return for additional procedures and refer friends and family to Dr. Glatt for his exceptional results. Nominated by his patients, he was honored by the American Cancer Society at the 2012 Starry Night Gala in recognition of his expertise, compassion and deep commitment to his care of breast cancer patients. Dr. Glatt holds academic appointments in plastic surgery at Mount Sinai School of Medicine and Rutgers NJ Medical School. "Whether performing a cosmetic or reconstructive procedure, it is extremely rewarding to be able to achieve such positive changes for my patients," he says.
